

THE ELEVEN WORDS

for the meeting where something is staying unsaid

*“I see this differently,
and it matters
enough to say.”*

Say it early. Say it calm. Say it once.

Then find your second voice:

solo courage has a half-life.

Eleven words. Two seconds. That is usually all the moment needs.

From Courage: Mind the Gap · the four steps to courage

4stepstocourage.com/meeting